ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER
POST OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Eighteen Appointed Hatchet Reporters, Editor Announces

Seven Senior, Eleven Junior
Reporters Named for Service and Dependability

Appointments are announced by the editor to the reportorial staff of The Hatchet. Senior reporters are Virginia Hawkins, Jane Menefee, Betty Coon, Margaret Liebler, Dorothy Lauder, Wilbur McAllan, and Ruth Schmidt. Those appointed as junior reporters are John Busick, John Everett, Charlotte Dubin, Rhoda Blose, Robert Herzog, Katherine Prichard, Martha Sutton, Walter Rhinehart, Evelyn Kerr, Doris Skinker, and Helen Middleton.

Not only length of service but dependability and cooperation counted in making the selections. Some who have done work in past semesters, but who are irregular in turning in copy or unfaithful in attendance at the Sunday night sessions of copy preparation have not been recognized for those reasons. The reporters are expected to do the work required of them and on time.

In making the above announcement Editor Weitzel cautions those receiving appointments to continue to give satisfactory work, as there are others who are working for their appointments in the future, and The Hatchet has room only for steady workers.

Dr. Munroe Honored By Gift Of Portrait

Portrait of Scientist

Dr. Charles E. Munroe, dean emeritus of the Graduate School, was recently honored by his fellow members of the Cosmos Club. An oil portrait of the internationally known chemist was presented on behalf of a committee of club members and associates by Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils of the Department of Agriculture, to Dr. William C. White, president of the club. The presentation took place before a large gathering of friends, fellow associates and members of the scientist's family.

Famed the world over for his invention of smokeless gunpowder, Dr. Munroe has been a professor at George Washington University, the United States Naval Academy, the War College, and the Naval Torpedo Station at Newport, R. I. He is now chief of the explosives division at the Bureau of Mines, where his connections date from the establishment of the bureau. Formerly he was president of the Cosmos Club.

On the committee which made arrangements for the portrait was President Cloyd Heck Marvin. Herman Ludden, the artist, was congratulated on so ably depicting Dr. Munroe's expression and attitude.

Recruits Requested To Fill Company "E"

National Guard Asks Men From University to Complete Personnel

Several vacancies have occurred in Company "E," One Hundred and Twenty-first National Guard. As the company is composed largely of George Washington University students and graduates, it is desired that these vacancies be filled with G. W. U. men to keep up the high caliber of its personnel. Due to discharges and inactives the company must recruit about three men per month.

Students from G. W. active in Company "E" are Captain Walter A. Knight; 1st Lt. William R. Lane, '28; 2nd Lt. Howard A. Burd; Staff Sergeant Harry Parsons, former manager of G. W. rifle team; Sgt. Baxter Smith, also former manager of G. W. rifle team; Sgt. Henry Boudinet, G. W. rifle team member; Privates Julian A. Brylawski, Arthur N. Thomas, and Arthur A. Timmelen, all well-known members of the G. W. rifle squad.

The company drills once a week and has a two-week encampment which this summer will be at Pen Mar, Maryland.

Pay is furnished for all drills and encampments attended, as well as all clothing, food, and equipment. Anyone interested should get in touch with Howard A. Burd, 3121 Sixteenth St. N. W., Apt. 57, or at Room 6207, Interior Building.

February Graduates!

The attention of all students who expect to graduate at the February Convocation is called to the fact that Monday, January 11, is the last day for the filing of applications. This applies also to those who expect to qualify for the Junior Certificate. Applications should be filed at the Registrar's Office, Building G.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in February should take note that Monday, January 11, is the last day for the receiving of theses.

Education Society Gives Honor Bids

President and Mrs. Marvin,
Provost and Mrs. Wilbur to Be Sponsors

The constitution of the Women's Education Club provides for honorary membership as well as active and associate members. Women who have contributed to the field of education are eligible. The club has asked the following to become honorary members: Miss Beis Goodykoontz, assistant commissioner, United States Office of Education; Miss Anna D. Halberg, dean of Education, Wilson Teachers College; Miss Rose Hardy, assistant superintendent, District Public Schools; Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, Department of Agriculture; Dr. Mary Dahney Davis, specialist in Kindergarten and Primary Grades, United States Office of Education; Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, member of the Board of Education, District Public Schools; and Miss Emaline Whitcomb, senior specialist in Home Economics, United States Office of Education. Those who have been asked to act as sponsors for the club are: President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Provost and Mrs. William Allen Wilbur, Dean and Mrs. William Carl Ruediger, Acting Dean and Mrs. William Cullen French, Dean and Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, Professor and Mrs. Mitchell Dreese, Professor and Mrs. Dudley Wilson Willard, and from the United States Office of Education, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Lide, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Jensen.

Professor Frances Kirkpatrick of the Home Economics department has been chosen as faculty adviser. Thursday, January 14, is the day of the next meeting. In the next issue of The Hatchet will be an announcement of the speaker and subject.

Lutheran Students Will Hear Dr. Long

Luther Club to Hold Regular Monthly Meeting on Tuesday, January 12

The George Washington University Lutheran Club will begin its activities for the year 1932 with a regular monthly meeting Tuesday, January 12, at 8:15 p. m. at Luther Place Memorial Church. The Reverend Ralph Young, D. D., executive secretary of the National Lutheran Council, will come from New York to be the guest speaker.

Besides its regular monthly meeting the Luther Club sponsors weekly discussion groups each Sunday afternoon at 4 in J-28.

Last year discussion groups met from October 18 to December 6. All of these meetings were well attended by the student body, but it is hoped that a still larger number will attend in the future, especially since the subject matter of discussions is purely non-sectarian.

Many Volumes Donated To University Library In Month of December

Among the many books added to the George Washington University Library in December were gifts from faculty members of the University, from other universities, from institutions and societies, from foreign governments, from the United States and District of Columbia governments, and from individuals.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin presented a book entitled "Commercial Education in Secondary Schools," by Holt. Among the faculty members who donated books were Professors Douglas Bement, L. J. Ragatz, Cecil K. Jones, and A. H. Krappe.

Cherry Tree Asks For Early Action In Picture Making

New Arrangement Is Made
With Studio; Sitzings Daily and in Evening

In an effort to complete the photographing of all seniors and members of organizations, including fraternities and sororities, of the University, the 1932 Cherry Tree Board of Editors have made special arrangements with the Casson Studio to take pictures daily from 9 to 5 and on Sundays from 11 to 3 o'clock. Beginning with Thursday, January 7, they will be taken every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock, up to and including Saturday, January 23.

In view of the good showing made thus far in taking pictures for this edition of the Cherry Tree, featuring George Washington's life, every effort is being made to establish the deadline on photography around examination time.

The president or person in charge of photography in every organization is being advised the exact number of members who have had their pictures taken so that a check up can be made on those who have failed to do so, in view of the fact that the deadline is fast approaching.

Such action on the part of the Board of Editors will allow ample time to arrange and review the copy so as to present an outstanding annual which will truly commemorate George Washington's life in a manner befitting the namesake of our University. Photographic appointments can be made by communicating with Casson's Studio, 907 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., National 5861, or through Jerry Free, photographic manager.

Announce Pre-Registration Period For Next Semester, January 11-27

Registration Is Necessary In All Cases; Bring or Mail Attached Form To Registrar's Office; Have Programs Approved While There Is Plenty of Time

Advance registration for the second semester will open next Monday, January 11, continuing through Wednesday, January 27, it is announced by Fred E. Nessell, registrar of the University.

During this period students now enrolled in the University who expect to continue their work next semester may plan their schedules with the assistance of deans and advisers, execute the necessary forms, and complete registration, thus avoiding the inconveniences of the more crowded regular period.

Attention is called to the fact that registration for the second semester is necessary in all cases, even though the student's program for the second semester be identical with that of the first semester.

Fill Out and Mail Form
The procedure for advance registration is as follows:

Immediately following this article is printed a form which should be filled in at once by all students of the University (except Medical students, who need not re-register). Students in all schools except the Law School should bring or mail the notice to the Registrar's Office, Building G. Law students should leave the notice at the Law School office.

The necessary forms for registration, together with full instructions for their execution, will be issued to students upon receipt of the form mentioned above.

Conferences with deans and advisers may be arranged during the period from January 11 to January 27. In the case of law students, the period of advance registration continues only until January 24. The approval of the program having been secured from the dean or adviser, registration forms should then be filed at the Registrar's Office.

Pay Before February 9
Initial payment of tuition should be made on or before Tuesday, February 9, in all schools except the Law School. Law students should make the initial payment on or before Saturday, January 30. A statement of tuition charges will be given at the time of registration. The usual late registration fee will apply if payment has not been made by the above dates.

In the case of necessary changes in schedule due to failure in pre-requisite courses, the change may be made until February 23 without charge.

Students entering the University from high school or transferring from other colleges or universities will register February 8 and 9, except in the Law School where second semester registration for new students will take place January 29 and 30.

Engineering School Ball Slated To Be Interesting Affair

Marvin, Lapham, Johnson Will Address Engineers; Troubadours Entertain

Plans have been completed for the ball which will be held for the 500 members of the Engineering School, their friends and guests, Friday night in the west ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel.

President Marvin, Dean John R. Lapham, Professor Arthur F. Johnson, Professor Norman B. Ames, Professor O. B. French, and the entire staff of instruction in the Engineering School will be present. Other invited guests include Provost William Allen Wilbur and the heads of the District of Columbia engineering societies.

Seventeen committeemen have worked for weeks under the leadership of Ray A. Heimburger, to insure the success of the Engineer's Ball, and to place it definitely upon the year's social calendar.

Red Anderson and his 12-piece orchestra are busily concocting new arrangements to play Friday night.

Troubadours to Entertain
Under the management of Trimble Sawtelle, the Troubadours have arranged several singing and dancing numbers which will feature Marjorie Mitchell, Bert Bagranoff, Steve Nyman, and Sock Kennedy.

About midnight several unidentified gentlemen plan to bomb the Ball (figuratively speaking, of course) with a newspaper, the first edition of the Pick and Shovel, said to contain all the "low-down" on the Engineering School. The Pick and Shovel will be printed by a new process which has been evolved by the engineers.

Grand March Featured
Ray A. Heimburger and Sock Kennedy will lead the grand march which will be under the direction of Jack Royce, who has worked out a combination of military and review formations.

At the conclusion of the grand march, the band will play "The Engineer's Ball."

Cherry Tree Pictures!

Beginning today, Cherry Tree Pictures will be made at Casson's Studio, 907 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., from 9 to 5 every day except Sunday, when the hours will be 11 to 3. Thursday, January 7, and each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday thereafter, sittings may be had in the evening from 8 to 10, up to and including January 23.

Envoy Addresses Sciences Society

Turkish Ambassador and Dr.
Patterson Speak at Pi Gamma Mu Banquet

Ahmed Muhar Bey, Turkish Ambassador to the United States, and Dr. Ernest M. Patterson, president of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences, were the guests of honor and principal speakers at the national dinner of Pi Gamma Mu Social Science Honor Society, Monday, December 28, at the Mayflower.

The Ambassador, who spoke on changes in The New Turkey, was presented with an Honor Key in the name of Pi Gamma Mu in recognition of his distinguished contributions to social science as an educator, administrator, and diplomat.

Before the assembled guests and members the following people were named as new members of the George Washington University chapter of Pi Gamma Mu: Mary Ambrosi, Charles Dorwick, Harold Curran, Pearce Davis, Veronica Devlin, Cecile Harrison, R. Johnson, Selma Kausse, Caldwell, and Lillian Liddington. John MacDonald, Willard McCornack, Jack Permut, Roland Renkel, Rudolph Sigal, and Ruth White.

Special guests at the dinner, of which Prof. Donaldson had charge of arrangements, were members of the staff of the British Embassy; Dr. George Bonnesco, financial counselor of the Rumanian Legation; Dr. John Skalicky, counselor of the Czechoslovakian Legation, and Madame Skalicky; Clyde Aitchison, of the Interstate Commerce Commission; and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Glee Clubs Feature In Tree Festivities

Both Women's and Men's Units Featured in Holiday Program

The Women's and Men's Glee Clubs combined Christmas Eve at the lighting of the community Christmas tree to sing "The Angels and the Shepherds," by Riedel.

On December 17 the two Glee Clubs joined again to sing an accompaniment for a religious pantomime, "The Nativity," given by Orchestras at the Church of the Holy City.

Following this program the Men's Glee Club sang at the Masonic Temple and the Women's Glee Club joined them at Thirteenth and New York Avenue to sing "The Angels and the Shepherds," by Riedel; "Beautiful Savior," by Christensen, and "Hail to the Buff."

Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity Has First Informal Dinner

The first of a series of informal monthly dinners was held by John Jay chapter of Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity Wednesday evening, December 16, at the Powhattan Hotel. Dean William Cabell Van Vleck, of the law school, was the principal speaker, discussing the work of the American Law Institute. The January dinner is planned for Wednesday, January 13, at the Powhattan. Alumni of the chapter are especially invited.

Journalism Teachers Pledge To Uncensored Instruction

Another step was taken toward "academic freedom" when the journalism teachers attending the annual convention of the American Association of Schools and Department of Journalism in Minneapolis pledged themselves to support uncensored instruction in the nation's schools and colleges.

In the resolution was brought out the special need that journalism students have "for adequate and impartial instruction in many controversial questions in present-day social, political and economical life."

January 11 Final Recognition Time For Organizations

Those Which Have Not Met
Trustees' Regulations
Face Deadline

On next Monday, January 11, a number of student organizations which have not complied with the regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the University in regard to approval by the Committee on Student Life, will cease to be recognized.

The period of grace of two and a half months, which began October 26, when the information regarding organizations was first due, expires next Monday and any organization which has not been recognized by that time will be required to resort to unusual efforts to re-establish its identity as an integral portion of the George Washington University.

Notice is hereby given that student organizations in the George Washington University which have not complied on or before January 11, 1932, with the regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the University with regard to approval of such organizations by the University Committee on Student Life, will cease to be recognized as University organizations as of that date. A statement of the regulations governing approval will be found on pages 14 and 15 of the University Handbook.

HENRY GRATTON DOYLE,
Chairman, Committee on Student Life.

During December the office of the Registrar of the University was crowded with every campus organization.

which had not yet filed the required information. The Provost stressed the importance of immediate compliance, and quoted a memorandum by President Cloyd Heck Marvin disclaiming

University Dance Saturday Evening

Student Council Sponsors
Open Affair in Corcoran
Hall

An all-University dance, sponsored by the Student Council, will occupy the social limelight this coming Saturday evening, January 9, from 9 until 12 o'clock in Corcoran Hall. There will be an admission charge of $1.00 per couple to defray expenses.

The Student Council has played host to the student body on several occasions and every affair has been highly successful. The fall mixer, sponsored by the council, has become an annual affair, and is probably the best attended dance of the year. Various campus organizations have always cooperated in putting over these hops. The Troubadours have on occasion furnished entertainment by its members, and the most popular orchestras have always furnished the music.

A Dagmoir unit has been selected by the committee of the council in charge, to play Saturday night. This band has been much in demand this fall by everyone.

Johnson Attends Meeting Of Mechanical Engineers

Professor Arthur F. Johnson, of the Mechanical Engineering Department of the University, attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held in New York during the week beginning November 30, at which time he was able to view exhibits and demonstrations portraying important advances made in the work of the profession during the past year. While in attendance at the meeting Professor Johnson made an excursion to the plant of the Ford Motor Company located at Edgewater, N. J.

Molyneux, Kennedy, Beattie Entertain at Central Reunion

Three members of Troubadours entertained at the annual New Year's reunion of the Central High School Alumni Association. Ruth Molyneux sang "We'll Come Smiling Through" and "Only in Dreams," two song hits from "Happy Landings," accompanied by Dan Beattie, and "Sock" Kennedy gave his famous tap dance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1932

An Economy

The method of advance registration for the second semester devised for use in 1931 was so successful that it will again be employed this year, and every student should take advantage of this opportunity to complete registration in a rational way.

Under the old system of registering three days were set aside in which 5,000 students had to apply, arrange programs, consult advisors, pay fees, and overcome all the other hazards one must eliminate, one by one.

Now you have from January 11 to January 27. Merely fill in the blank requested and turn it in. You will immediately be furnished the necessary forms and can proceed to register. If it is necessary to consult advisors you will find them ready to devote the time and thought to your individual requirements which would be impossible in the three-day period.

Take advantage of this early period, which is set aside for your convenience as well as that of the administration. Avoid the inefficiency and concentrated rush of the regular period.

A First Warning

Sight of the mid-year examination schedule brings us back to earth with a jolt after a blissful two week absence from lectures, recitations, and quizzes. It calls to mind that resolve to "catch up" on back assignments, preparing themes, or briefing cases which we made and intended to carry out during the holidays. Those few of us who actually found the time or inclination to do so are fortunate and those who didn't use this time set aside for rest but who stayed with their instructors all during the semester are even more fortunate. There is, however, a difficult two weeks ahead for many, and they will need no New Year's Resolution to make them stick to their books during the rest of the term.

Why the sudden change from the abandon and diffident attitude of the early part of the year? The realization of the pleasures and joys of acquiring a liberal education has probably come to most of us in our reflective moments, but does this realization account for the present activity?

Unfortunately it does not in the majority of cases. The realization that a "D" or a "F" is about to be recorded against one in some neglected course seems to be a more effective boost. This condition is to be deplored, but until some method can be advanced for inspiring students to forget some of their pleasures and petty rivalries and devote the best hours to the pursuit of knowledge we must be thankful for this sense of pride if it can be called such, which brings us to life for even a short while.

Cherry Tree Pictures

There are still many seniors who have not had their likenesses recorded for use in The Cherry Tree, and little time remains in which to do so. It is an opportune time to suggest that every student expecting to graduate this year should avail himself of the chance to appear in the 1932 Annual. The staff has promised us the best publication in the history of the school for this, the George Washington bi-centennial year, a fitting memorial to our namesake. Aside from the value of the book as a record of our college days, the unusual quality of the work will be a fitting remembrance of the best years of our youth.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

January 28-February 3, 1932

The class schedule is suspended during the examination period. Examinations will be two hours in length. Books and scratch papers may not be taken into the examination room unless authorized by the instructor in charge.

Third group courses are not included. Courses in Law, Medicine and Pharmacy will be arranged by each school involved.

Conflicts which can not be adjusted with the instructor, and errors should be reported to the Registrar.

Colonial Courtmen Take Rough Game In Season's Debut

Newcomers on Squad Show
Up Well in Team's First
Victory of Season

The Colonial five made its season debut in a rough game with the Shenandoah quint, downing it by a 44-27 score. The team has quickly come into condition and shows promise of being one of the best in this vicinity.

Here's One Smoke for MEN

Let the little girls toy with their long, slim holders—let them park scented cigarettes with their powder compacts. That's the time for you to go in for a REAL MAN'S smoke.

And what can that be but a PIPE!

There's something about a time-proven, companionable pipe that does satisfy a man's smoking instincts. You become attached to it—like the way it clears your head, stirs your imagination, puts a keen edge on your thinking.

And you know the heights of true smoking satisfaction when you keep your pipe filled with Edgeworth. It's the finest blend of choice, selected burleys. And its mellow flavor and rich aroma have made Edgeworth the favorite among pipe tobacco in 42 out of 64 leading American colleges and universities.

Edgeworth? You want to know where to buy it. Or, if you wish to try before you buy, send for special free packet. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleven-step process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 15¢ packet package to $1.50 pound humidifier tin.

North Dakota Aggies Are Added to Colonial Schedule

Furthering the policy of securing inter-sectional contests for the George Washington football team, the North Dakota Aggies have been added to the 1932 schedule. This game will be played here on November 4. This is the fourth inter-sectional tilt to be listed so far, the others being Alabama, Oklahoma, and Iowa. The entire schedule has not been made public as yet, but it is thought that another game of this type will be added to complete the schedule for the Bi-centennial football season.

Coach Pixlee has shown the desirability of inter-sectional contests in the past three years. The team has been built up in the last three years so that now it rates with the best in this vicinity. The addition of these games makes a most attractive schedule for the Colonial team of 1932.

Two newcomers on the squad, Parrack and Hertzler, held the attention of the onlookers due to their height and excellent floor play. Burgess, as usual, ran up a large number of points to start off the season. He has held the high scoring record for the District for several years and is going after those same honors again this year.

Passing and floor play characterized the first quarter, the Colonials leading the attack, but not being able to find the basket. Starting the second quarter like a tornado, the Colonials went on a scoring rampage which ended at the half with the score 27 to 10 in their favor.

The second half was nearly a replica of the first with G. W. scoring 20 points to 17 for Shenandoah, which made a good fight and played the Colonials on even terms in the last quarter. Meirs was the outstanding visitor, ringing up 14 points during the game.

Zahn, stellar Colonial guard, played the most consistent game, holding his man to five points while garnering four for himself.

What You Need Is Noise
In an experiment of the psychology club at Connecticut College it was demonstrated that people generally work better under distraction, but use more energy, and thus tire more quickly. The subjects were required to solve mathematical problems under quiet conditions, and then while someone tooted a jazzbo, told stories, and played records on the phonograph.

Frosh Quint Wins Three Tilts From Local High Schools

Bethesda, Business, and Central Fall Before Cubs;
Noonan High Scorer

In the week prior to Christmas vacation the Colonial Cubs opened their basketball campaign with three auspicious victories. These games resulted in scores as follows: December 15, Cubs, 40—Bethesda-Chevy Chase, 9; December 17, Cubs, 35—Business, 21; and December 19, Cubs, 37—Central, 15. In each game the G. W. Yearlings clearly outplayed the opposition and in the last half of the Central contest showed a passing and shooting attack that gladdened even Coach Walsh's heart.

Against Bethesda-Chevy Chase, their initial effort, the Cubs experienced no difficulty at any time. They grabbed the lead at the opening whistle and stayed in front throughout. Bill Noonan and Dallas Shirley, formerly of Eastern High, were both outstanding for the Cubs.

Yearlings Show Form
Two days later the Cubs engaged Business High whose team put up a better battle than either Bethesda-Chevy Chase or Central. Coach Lynn Woodward started his second team and though it held the Colonials at the start, the college boys soon steamed ahead. With the score 8-2 by virtue of two field goals by Weingartner, one by Noonan, and one by Keesey, Coach Woodward relieved his second team, whose only score had been registered on a field goal by Tipton.

From then on the battle was nip and tuck, the Colonials' lead being maintained by the brilliant shooting of Noonan and Weingartner, and the general floor play of Christiansen and Shirley.

The last foe met was the blue-clad boys of Central, and for a while they were plenty tough. Starting the game the Colonials were met by a very stiff defense which smothered all attempts on the block play, and were guarded so closely that long shots were hurried and wide of their mark.

In the second half both teams grew a little reckless and fouling was frequent resulting in the removal of Swift of Central and Weingartner of the Cubs via the personal foul route. Following Swift's departure, the Cub attack began to function smoothly and they gradually drew away from the Columbia Heights boys.

In the final period with Noonan, Gleason, and Wickham, peppering the basket from all angles the game turned into a rout for the Cubs. Noonan, with eleven points, continued his scoring rampage, while Gleason checked up the same number and Wickham followed closely with eight.

Fraternity Series Drawing To Close

Phi Sigs Ahead in League A;
Sig Eps and Sigma Nu Tied in Other

This week's games are: Tonight at 8 o'clock, Acadia vs. Theta Delta Chi, and Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon immediately following. Thursday night, Theta Upsilon Omega vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, first game, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu in the second game—all at the gym.

Phi Sigma Kappa assumed the undivided lead in League A of the Interfraternity Basketball Series by winning a loosely played contest from the Delta, 33-19. The boys seemed to think the point of the game was to create foul shots, the total number of fouls being 26, the largest number accumulated in any game to date. The Deltas won the doubtful honors in converting 9 of 13 into points, while the eventual winners sunk only 5 of 13.

Fortunately the Phi Sigs took time enough between fouls to shoot 14 field goals, this being a safe margin over the Delta total of 5. Noonan showed to advantage for the winners, scoring 13 points and having no fouls chalked against him.

A game starting as a runaway and then developing into a free for all was that between T. U. O. and Sigma Chi, which was won by the former, 20-19.

Holding their opponents to one foul shot, the T. U. O. five assumed a commanding lead during the first quarter only to see their feat duplicated, making the score at the half, 10-9. The second half was marked by very close playing. With the score tied at 18-18, Newland broke away from his guard and with a toss from near the sideline created the winning margin. With only a few seconds to play both teams threw discretion to the winds and the ball bounced rather consistently against the board, but seemed content only to bounce.

Either by systematized playing or through a queer happening of the game, Kappa Sig won from S. A. E., 20-12, by scoring only in the second and fourth periods. This was sufficient as S. A. E. was making very few of its own. Inability at the foul line also hurt the S. A. E. team.

In League A, Phi Sig will have one more serious hurdle when it encounters the T. U. O. who are sharing second place with the Delta. Two strong teams will meet to contest for the right to represent League B in the play off, when the Sigma Nu plays S. P. E. Both teams have experienced players who know the game, so a well contested match is expected.

CHIPS

Still dazed by a deluge of Christmas neckties, egg nog, fruit cake, sorority brawls, and (&%) cadets and midshipmen, our Hatchet staff crawls wearily back to vowing to strangle the next person who inanely chirps "What did Santa Claus bring you for Christmas?"

Talking about gifts. The exam repertoire published in this issue will give any student the jitters, while professors will voice their usual evil chuckles.

Results of the recent European Types exam lead many students to conclude that as an entertainer Prof. Shepherd is a first rate plumber.

Rollo notes with great interest that our Rifle team led the civilian colleges in the country last year. At last we may find a way of eliminating the excess number of clubs and co-eds on the campus.

What a co-ed will take when she does the taking should be studied carefully before choosing your date for the Interfraternity Prom. Reference: Society. A certain dinner party given for the Naval Academy at the Shoreham during the holidays.

Just what is an engineer's idea of symmetry in feminine pulchritude will get an airing at the Shoreham next Friday. It will probably be the same old stuff, however. So don't get all wrought up.

Twenty-nine Acadian children entertained. Well! Well! Page the Interfraternity Council. More dirty rushing. Just a twenty-year plan to insure the perpetuity of the local chapter or else! Aw, give 'em a break, won't you?

"Who stole my Benny?" is the plaintive wail as students missed their last year's overcoats in a recent forage on that article of apparel. Judge Given gave the culprit 360 days, no doubt, for having such poor taste.

Prof. Bemis flaunts depression with an iron hat, dress coat, and all the fixin's as poverty-stricken students gaze with bated breath. This book writing racket sure is the nertz.

Local fraternities announce that future social plans will be laid as soon as the dense fog arising from New Year's Eve hangovers is dispelled from the vicinity of the chapter houses.

The advent of leap year has driven Rollo into retirement as hordes of women with money (not co-eds) clamor at his town message for the distinctive honor of entertaining him, probably at the town's most prominent hostess. My hearth rug is my soul mate, says he, modestly.

—DICK ROLLO.

Varsity Courtmen To Meet Marines

Play Devil Dogs Tomorrow
Night in Gym; Elon
Game Is Cancelled

The Buff and Blue varsity five begins its basketball campaign in earnest this week, with three games scheduled during the next six days. Tomorrow at 8 o'clock, the Colonials will face the Quantico Marines in the George Washington gym. Next Monday, January 11, they meet the Marines in a return engagement, to be played at Quantico.

The Devil Dogs should offer Pixlee's men all the competition they want, for in their line-up are several experienced and capable basketballers, who formerly starred with other school, college and independent teams. Bauer, Posik, Shelton, Locke, and Zeher. Ed Gulick is coaching the team, which has shone strongly in appearances so far.

Coach Pixlee will probably start the same quint Wednesday which opened the season against Shenandoah College, composed of Burgess and Parrack, forwards; Hertzler, center, and Zahn and Olversen, guards. Other men who joined the squad at the close of the grid season are likely to see action during the contest, namely: Chambers, Mulvey, Carlin, and Fenlon.

A game with Elon College, listed to take place here on February 2, has been cancelled due to the inability of the North Carolina team to make the

A NEW CAFETERIA

Catering to George Washington Students

Jenner's is new to G. W. students . . . new to the last pot and pan . . . and new in ideas.

To begin with, Chef Walter Munzner is a graduate of Continental schools and combines his German style of cooking with Mrs. Jenner's home style cooking. As a result, Jenner's foods have a new deliciousness that will be sure to please you. For George Washington students especially, Jenner's offer this well balanced 50-cent dinner:

Soup or cocktail, choice of meats, two vegetables, hot oven fresh rolls, beverage, salad or dessert.

There is no skimping in portions. Green vegetables come from the gardens of the South and NOT from cans; meats are selected from Washington's best markets.

The Jenner's invite you in for breakfast, luncheon (25 cents and up), and dinner—and promise you an unusual meal.

The rush of teas and parties is over and a rather tired looking group of students return to the old grind. Everyone seems to have had a thoroughly successful holiday, however, and below is the Christmas pathway of the social orientation of some of the University social lights.

One of the first Christmas parties was given by Madeline Yonkers at Congressional Country Club on December 23.

Sigma Phi Epsilon gave a dance at its house on New Year's Eve.

Former Hatchet Editor

Engaged to Yale Professor.

An engagement of more than usual interest to students of George Washington is that of Dorothy Albert, member of Alpha Delta Pi and former editor of The University Hatchet, to Howard Curtis, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and member of the faculty at Yale University, which was announced at a luncheon at Wardman Park Hotel, December 26.

Jane Menefee was hostess at a bridge party at her home, December 31.

Alpha Delta Pi announces the marriage of Bernadine Horn to Lieut. Roger Brunelli, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Janice and Cal Lacey entertained with a bridge supper at their apartment, December 28.

Phi Sigma Kappa celebrated New Year's Eve with a dance at the house.

Alpha Delta Pi gave its Christmas Formal, December 28, at 2400 Sixteenth Street.

Engagement of Popular Co-ed

Announced By Pi Beta Phi
Pi Beta Phi announces the engagement of Helen Taylor to Wesley Hanford. Mildred Burnham entertained at a dinner dance in their honor at the Shoreham Friday night.

Acadians welcomed the New Year with a dance in honor of the alumni.

The wedding of Barbara Miller, Alpha Delta Pi, to Emory Neilson, took place January 2.

Delta Zeta Gives Dance

At Hamilton Hotel
Among the gayest of holiday affairs was the Delta Zeta dance at the Hamilton, Tuesday, December 22.

Grace Dutton entertained at luncheon at the Shoreham Saturday in honor of Jean Woodson, one of the season's debutantes.

New Year's Eve was celebrated by Norment Hawkins and some of his friends with an egg-nog party at his home.

Kappa Alpha, with the aid of Dagmoir's peppy music, furnished worthwhile entertainment on Christmas Eve.

Kathryn Dille entertained at a dinner dance at the Shoreham, December 29, in honor of Yvonne Christian, Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge from William and Mary College. Ruth Warren entertained at a tea in her honor on December 31.

contemplation of the filing of any secret work. The memorandum of President Marvin follows:

"The ruling of the Board of Trustees concerning the filing of the constitutions of the several organizations recognized by the University does not contemplate the filing of any secret work. It has in mind the filing of aims and objectives as stated in the constitution and also the administrative elements of the organization, showing the type of organization and the responsibilities within the organization and to national bodies, if any.

"I think it should be made plain to national officers that in the event the constitution contains any secret work, a copy of it giving the above elements and omitting the secret work would be acceptable for filing with us, providing the officers will certify the copy as being correct in the particulars above mentioned."

Each organization desiring recognition by George Washington University must send the information required to the Chairman of the Committee on Student Life, Dean Henry Grattan Doyle, who will receive it as the representative of the committee, and will solely and personally inspect it for the Committee, and report to the Committee on their satisfactoriness. The papers will then be deposited by the Chairman in the confidential files of the University.

Information required includes eligibility rules for active and honorary membership, a copy of the constitution and by-laws, a complete list of members with address, a list of all officers with addresses and telephone numbers, a schedule of meetings, and a statement of policy and practice in respect to the six principles laid down by the Board of Trustees which are stated in detail on page 15 of the Student Handbook.

Varsity To Receive Awards At Banquet

22 Players and Manager to Receive Sweaters; Will Elect Captain

The George Washington University football squad will be honored with a banquet Thursday night at the G. W. Varsity Club at 1609 K Street. The banquet will be a strictly informal affair for the purpose of making awards to twenty-two men and to elect a captain for the 1932 eleven. Only the letter men of this year will participate in the election of the captain, who will be the first captain to lead the team since 1929 when Blackie Hoffman was at the helm.

President Marvin, Dr. Borden, and Coach Pixlee will be the speakers for the evening. Several alumni will be guests of the team. The banquet Thursday evening will in no way take the place of the final Athletic Banquet in the spring.

The banquet, originally planned to be held before the Christmas holidays, was postponed because of the Colonials' participation in the benefit game with the Alabama Rose Bowl eleven December 12.

The varsity letter-sweater will be awarded to twenty-two men who stood out during the past season, and to Manager Gerald Free. The following men will receive the varsity award: Blackie Hoffman, Wayne Chambers, Ralph Dike, Frank Blackstone, Walter Slaird, Fred Mulvey, John Fenlon, Otto Kriemelmeyer, Joe Carter, Lee Carlin, Johnny Matia, Kermit Stewart, Bob Galloway, Finis Parish, Ras Nielsen, Boyd Hickman, Barney Hale, John Asher, Wallace Wilson, Henry Clay, Jay Payne, and Rudy Usnik.

Judson King Speaks At Liberal Meeting

Government Ownership of Muscle Shoals Is Topic of Discussion

"Muscle Shoals should be a government owned and government operated power plant, furnishing cheap electric power to the inhabitants of the territory within 350 miles. Such an undertaking on the part of the government would provide revenue and force the power monopolies to reduce their outrageously high rates."

This was the text of the speech by Judson King before the Liberal Club on Wednesday, December 16. Mr. King is the director of the National Popular Government League and has been very prominent in congressional hearings on power questions.

After his speech, Mr. King led the group in an informal discussion of this subject and the power question in general.

Art Appreciation Club Will Hold Meeting on Thursday

The Art Appreciation Club will have its next meeting at Miss Garrel's apartment, 1615 Kenyon St., at 8:15, January 8. Everyone interested in joining the club is cordially invited to attend. At the last meeting before Christmas Mrs. Kendall Hoyt gave a talk on methods of making lithographs, etchings, engravings, and woodcuts. By way of illustration she showed some of her own etchings and block prints.
